

Student Right-to-Know Rates As of July 1, 2010

Student Right-To-Know refers to a federally-mandated public disclosure of an institution's Completion/Graduation Rate and Transfer-Out Rate. This information is provided in compliance with the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. This is a "cohort" study; that is, a group of students who are first-time freshmen who are enrolled full-time and are degree-seeking is identified in a fall term and their outcomes are measured over a period of time.

The outcomes measured are Completion/Graduation (the total number of students in the cohort who earn either a degree, a certificate, or who successfully completed a two-year-equivalent transfer-preparatory program) and Transfer-Out (the total number of cohort non-completers who were identified as having enrolled in another institution).

Graduation (and transfer-out) rates do not include students who left the school to serve in the armed forces, on official church missions, or in the foreign service of the federal government. Students who died or were totally and permanently disabled are also excluded.

The graduation rate at Vatterott Education Center is not yet in effect.

In 2006, there were no students enrolled as first-time, full-time students at Vatterott Education Center.

A transfer-out rate is not applicable to this educational institution.

SOURCE: The National Center for Educational Statistics (NCES) Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) 2009-2010 Graduation Rate Survey.